Community Bulletin #146– JKC Australia LNG Pty Ltd

The Mammoet team were proud to support local magazine Off The Leash with their successful relaunch event at Eva's Café recently.

Mammoet boosts local event guide launch

JKC's heavy lift specialist Mammoet recently put its weight behind the Top End's favourite local magazine, Off The Leash.

Mammoet lifts and transports the large pre-fabricated modules used to make up the Project's LNG processing facilities.

Off The Leash is a free, not-for-profit monthly magazine written and printed locally and touts itself as the Top End's comprehensive events guide across music, festivals, arts, films, writing, theatre and community events.

It recently expanded its publications to include a youth magazine – the pilot edition prepared in partnership with the City of Darwin Youth Services. Set to become a valuable resource for the youth sector to learn about career pathways, education and training opportunities, it is also designed to act as a voice for young people to express themselves creatively.

Mammoet's Assistant Project Manager, Sandy Palmer, said Off The Leash, which was founded in the Territory in 2007, ticked a lot of the company's sponsorship boxes.

"We were happy to sponsor Off The Leash because it's a local, community-based organisation which supports local writers, artists and events."

Mammoet's donation to Off The Leash assisted with its recent relaunch event at Eva's Botanical Gardens Café where a new logo, design and website were unveiled. Editor Claire Eltheringham said that would not have been possible without the financial support provided by Mammoet.

"Mammoet's donation allowed our organisation to create an event that would not only mark this significant moment in the history of Off The Leash, but also create an evening that will hopefully be remembered by our guests, well into the future," Claire said.

"With the right support this project will get off the ground and create positive community development outcomes through a series of mentor and training programs running under the Off The Leash umbrella."
